

I use a local independent ISP (Sonic.net) that delivers excellent service to me. I believe that these organizations should not be locked out from providing DSL service forcing me to go somewhere else to purchase connectivity to the internet.